

Law Student Opportunities

Public Rights Division

Summer Honors Program

Beginning in the Fall of 2006, the California Department of Justice, Office of the Attorney General, will begin accepting applications from law students for its 2007 Public Rights Division Summer Honors Program. Law students participating in the Public Rights Division Summer Honors Program will spend up to 12 weeks as an intern with one of the eleven sections within the Public Rights Division. Summer Honors Program positions will be available in the following cities and areas of law for 2007:

- Los Angeles: Antitrust Law; Consumer Law; Civil Rights Enforcement; Charitable Trusts; Energy and Corporate Responsibility; Land/Environment/Natural Resources.
- Sacramento: Charitable Trusts; Civil Rights Enforcement; Consumer Law; Energy and Corporate Responsibility; False Claims; Indian and Gaming Law; Land/Environment/Natural Resources; Tobacco Litigation and Enforcement.
- Oakland: Energy and Corporate Responsibility; Land/Environment/Natural Resources; Tobacco Litigation and Enforcement.
- San Francisco: Antitrust Law; Energy and Corporate Responsibility; Consumer Law; False Claims.
- San Diego: Consumer Law; Land/Environment/Natural Resources; Tobacco Litigation and Enforcement.

Volunteer positions will be available for the 2007 Summer Honors Program. Some students may be able to receive academic credit for their work. Public interest and other types of grants may be available.

How to Apply:

Resumes for Summer 2007 will be accepted beginning in the Fall of 2006.

Submit a resume, writing sample and cover letter indicating your preferred practice areas and cities.

Apply by sending the required documents via email to:

Kate Woy

Public Rights Division

Office of the Attorney General

kate.woy@doj.ca.gov

